Dharmadarsis Heads in their respective Districts

On the Verbal Complaints made by certain Dharmadarsis that for want of a Secretary, the meetings of Dharmadarsis did not take place regularly and that each one expected the others to call meetings for transaction of business, Mr M Shama Rao Avl, the then Offg Huzur Secretary submitted to the Dewan Sir P. N. Krishna Murti for approval on 17th April 1904 a proposal for amending a clause to Dharmadarsi Rule 3 authorizing the Dharmadarsis to elect one of themselves as Secretary

The then Dewan was pleased to record as follows: ——

"Let me have the views of Mr Anantasami Rao"

Thereupon the Deputy Commissioners of Districts and the Palace Officer were requested to submit their views in regard to the amendment of the present Rules so as to meet the present requirements for the better supervision and management of Huzur Institutions in the State. If there be any important temples requiring special treatment in this behalf, suggestion regarding them should also be submitted

4 The Deputy Commissioners of Kolar and Mysore State that the Dharmadarsis may be given some status by the wearing certain honors in the temple to inspire fear and respect in the minds of temple Servants.

Under-Secretary's note:—

1. The question of appointing Panchayets for supervising the affairs of muzrai institutions was urged at the Representative Assembly of 1885 and in subsequent years also. The idea originally seems to have been to empower Taluk Boards to supervise these affairs. After the organization separately of the Muzrai Department in December 1891, Rao Bahadur Mr. Sreenivasachar in August and September 1892 appointed Committees of Dharmadarsis to supervise the working of the muzrai institutions at Melkote, Sreerangapatam and Mysore. The duties of these Dharmadarsis were also briefly indicated.

2. This system was extended to other institutions also perhaps, without specifying the duties. So the Dharmadarsis appointed for the institutions at Krishnarajapet and Melur enquired what their duties and powers were. Advantage was taken of a recommendation for the appointment of Dharmadarsis made by the Dy Commissioner of Hassan in 1895 to enquire what powers could be granted to them. The Dy. Commr, Hassan

Sent up a memo drawn up by Mr. Chenna Sekhara Iyer who was then the District Munzai officer there. This was sent to other Deputy Commissioners for opinion and in the year 1898, Rules relating to Dharmadarsis were approved by the Dewan and published.

3. It will be seen from the file of 1895, that it was proposed by the Dy Commr. of Kadur that the Amildar should preside at the meeting of Dharmadarsis, but the then Dewan did not approve of this for the reason that the other duties of Amildars would be affected. The Rules as issued did not say who had to call the meetings. So no meetings were held and the Dharmadarsis in most cases, did practically nothing. To obviate this, Mr. M. Shama Rau, the Offg. Munzai Secretary, in the year 1904 proposed that the Dharmadarsis should elect their own Secretary. Thereupon the Dy Commissioners of Districts and the Palace Officer were asked in October 1905 if the Dharmadarsi Rules of 1898 required any modification and if any temples required any special treatment The replies of all have been received and the proposals are embodied in the enclosed Statement at the Annex to this my views also.

4. On account of the defect in the present Rules, Government in appointing a Committee of Dharmadarsis for the Rameswara temple in Chamarajpet Extension, appointed Mr H Ramiah as the President thereof and authorized the committee to select its Secretary. By appointing a President, this order has fixed the responsibility upon a specified person whose care, it should be, to see that everything is properly managed. As a matter of fact, this institution is being well-managed.

5 The revision of the Rules being under consideration, I have not followed this precedent in regard to other institutions getting a Govt grant. In regard to the private charities such as Bommanli's charities at Mysore made over to Govt for management, a President has been appointed as recommended by me representations have been made at the Representative Assembly Sessions since 1906. At this year's Sessions, when the subject was mooted, the Dewan and Second Councillor were pleased to read the Rules now in force, and the Dewan remarked to the effect that if the Rules now in force were properly carried out, much good would result.

7 I may here mention that the Dharma-darsis of Harihar temple appear to be holding monthly meetings even under the present Rules.

8 When about the year 1844 or so, in accordance with a Parliamentary Blue Book about idolatry, the British Govt withdrew from the direct control of temples in British India, similar attempts seem to have been made here also during the days of ~~the~~ ~~days~~ ~~of~~ the British Commission. The portions marked with red pencil at pages 5, 6, 9, 10 and 11 of the Mysore Memorandum go to show that the management by committees was not successful.

9. The chief defect in the present

BPG—55,000—27-4-09

Rules has been referred to above it may be remedied by appointing Resident and Secretaries of the several committees. In the case of important institutions, such as Nanjangud, Melkote, Belur and other temples, the monthly meetings may conveniently be presided over by the Amildars without detriment to their other work.

Sir,

With reference to your order No 2300-08 dated 16th November 1905, requesting me to submit my views, in the matter of rules relating to Shanabhogs of Mysore institutions, published under proceedings No 460-8 dated 8th October 1888, I have the honour to state that the rules do not require much alteration. The only change which appears to me to be desirable is in regard to para 5 which should run as follows:-

(5) When there is a partnership or abutsaddy for the temple and he prepares the accounts, they should be placed before a meeting of Dharmadarsis and then sent up to the Shaildar together with copy of any resolution which the Dharmadarsis may pass in regard to them

(6) When the accounts are prepared in the Taluk office and despatched to the District office the office copies of them should similarly be laid before the Dharmadarsis and their resolutions on them reported to the Deputy Commissioner.

A district rule may also be laid down prohibiting Dharmadarsis from carrying on any litigation in connection with the institutions of which they are Dharmadarsis. and from

-ling with the moneys belonging to the institutions except in man-ner laid down by Government for receipt and expenditure of Government money.

There have been several instances in this District in which Dharmadarsis have act-ed in violation of such a rule.

Sir,

With reference to G. No 2300-08 dated 16th November 1905, asking to submit my views in regard to the amendment of the present rules relating to Dharmadarsees of Muzrai Institutions, I have the honor to state that the existing rules cover the full requirements, should the representatives take real interest in the work of maintaining the efficiency of the institutions, but to make them do so, it seems necessary as an incentive to add the following provisos to the rules.- As per section 10 contained in rules relating to Dharmadarsees of Muzrai Institutions, they have simply to report the misconduct and irregularity of the temple servants to the Amildar but he may take notice of the same or not. I would therefore suggest that the rule 10 may be so altered as to give them power that whenever a servant of Muzrai Institution is proved to be negligent in the performance of his duties, the Dharmadarsee of the institution to which the servant belongs, may hold a meeting, and if they unanimously find him guilty, they should request the Amildar to inflict a fine not exceeding 8 annas on the servant at fault. If the Amildar is of opinion that the servant does not deserve this punishment, he should refer the case for disposal to the Deputy Commissioner with a brief statement of reasons for disapproving of the resolution of the Dharmadarsees. If they are of opinion that a higher punishment should be awarded, they may report the same to the Amildar for such action in the matter as he deems proper.

2. Likewise, the Dharmadarsee may also be empowered to grant in urgent cases leave not exceeding 3 days to the temple servants.

Sir,

With reference to Government Proceedings No. 2300-08 of the 16th November 1905, calling for the submission of my views in regard to the amendment of the present Rules relating to the Dharmadarsis of Nuzzeri Institutions, I have the honor to state that when the Assistant Commissioners were consulted they reported that no

No alterations in the Existing Rules are necessary. But I am of opinion that the following amendments may be made in the Rules which are now in force.

Para 8 of the Rules. In this the words "at the discretion of the Taluk Amildar" may be changed to "at the discretion of the Deputy Commissioner or Assistant Commissioner in charge of the Taluk"

Para 8 II of the Rules.

The opening of the Golaka box may be done in the presence of the Amildar or during his absence before the Taluk Shereista dar than in the presence of the Chief Servant of the Temple as is now in force, when such Institutions are situated at the Taluk Head Quarters.

Para 11 of the Rules.

The time allowed for the Dharma Kartas to hold the office may be reduced to three years instead of five years in case that other persons of the place who may have interest in temple affairs may be appointed

2. As regards the Belur Temple from which good many Inam lands for have been endowed, the following additional duties may be entrusted to the Dharma Kartas.

(1) That the Dharmadarsis be allowed to check the monthly bills of the Establishments belonging to the Institution before they are sent up to the Taluk by the officials concerned.

II That they may be allowed to help the Institution in the collection of the Temple dues with the assistance of the Mirasi Gumaste' and the Temple Parpathegar.

III That the Dharmadarsis may be allowed a monthly allowance of one Rupee for purchasing papers &c. required for recording the

the proceedings of the meetings & on the required quantity of articles of Stationery may be supplied

Sir,

Adverting to the Proceedings of Govt., as per margin, on the subject of the proposed amendment of the rules relating to the Dharmadarsis of the Muzroi Institutions, I have the honor to state, I have as far as possible gone carefully over the present rules and find that no substantial changes would seem necessary for atleast some - time to come, save in ragard to the term of Office of Dharmadarsis, which I think may with advantage be fixed as three years instead of five as is now the case. The former limit would seem to give more - scope to co-operation in accordance with the spirit of these days of growing activity. In the case of a useful member, nothing can, it seems to me, interfere with his re-appointment for a fresh term of Office.

Sir,

With reference to your Circular No 1928-38 dated 9th December 1905 forwarding copy of Government Proceedings No. 2300-08 dated Mysore, 16th November 1905 in the matter of revising the Rules relating to Dharmadarsis and Inamdars No: 404-10 dated 30th July 1906, I have the honor to state that in my opinion, the rules published under Proceedings No. 460-8 dated 10th & October 1898, are comprehensive and do not require any material modification. The management of Mysore Institutions is peculiarly a matter in which good results will follow only when public spirited & proper Dharmadarsis are available and while the mere change in rules will [illegible]

itself a choice improvement. I have found that is here the Dharmadarsis take interest, the Institution is well managed and in other cases, a considerable portion of the allotment goes into the pockets of the low paid servants of the Institution. I once suggested the system of obtaining Vouchers initialled by a Dharmadarsi for every disbursement whether of rations or food, but unless a Dharmadarsi personally satisfies himself that the Vouchers are authentic, there will be no means of Check as most of the recipients will be travellers going to distant stations. The system of printing Chits in duplicate and Checking the monthly accounts with these Chit-Vouchers, each recipient of a Chit handing it over to the Temple or Chatram servant after — he is fed or given the rations may, however, in the advantage be generally introduced. It may also be ruled that if it is reported by an officer not inferior in rank than an Assistant Commissioner that any set of Dharmadarsis have been neglecting their duties, the whole body may for any fixed period be removed from office and the Institutions placed directly under a Government official for the said period Beyond the above improvements and impressing on the Government officers the importance of selecting only the best available ~~men~~ men too, to represent all interests Con-cerned with the Institution - I do not see that the rules are capable of being modified with advantage

I have &c

Sir,

With reference to Govt Proceedings No 2300-08 dated the 16th November 1903 calling for my views in regard to the amendment of the present rules relating to Dharmadarsis of Muzrai Institutions, I have the honor to submit as follows.—

2. The scope and provisions of the present rules are ample and do not seem to require material alterations.

3. Under Rule 8 a clause may advantageously be added requiring Dharmadarsis to help in the collection of produce or money due to the temples from Inam lands or villages.

4 Rule 11 prescribing a period of 5 years for the tenure of office for Dharmadarsis,— There is room for local prejudices etc taking deep root and hampering good work expected of them It may be desirable desirable to reduce the period to one of 3 years to stimulate healthy rivalry and ambition in other persons of the locality to do well.

5 Dharmadarsis may also be given some power to inflict small fines on the temple servants, subject to confirmation by the Amildar, as references to them often entail delay and rob the punishment of much of its effect. Several mufassal Institutions are situate far from Head Quarters and correspondence between the Dharmadarsis and the Amildars frequently defeat the object of timely warnings or punishments to the temple servants and throw the business of the temple into slackness and confusion.

6. It may also be desirable to give some status to the Dharmadarsis by showing some honours or marigads in the temple to inspire fear and respect in the minds of temple servants

Adverting to Government Proceedings No 2300-8 dated 16.11.05 and its subsequent reminders calling for my views regarding the amendment of the present rules relating to the appointment of Dharmadarsis and the duties to be performed by them, I have the honor to state that so far as this District is concerned, the rules promulgated in the Government order of the 10th October 1898 are not acted up to in all their details though every now and then Dharmadarsis are appointed by Government for some of the Inamdari Institutions. Though I cannot speak with authority as to the practice actually prevailing in other Districts I believe the same state of things prevails there also also.

It is only in the practical application of the rules that the defects and inconvenience, if any, could be discovered. The necessity therefore for revising the rules arises only when they are put into operation and when difficulties and inconveniences are felt in working them.

Since no trial has been given to the present rules, I would suggest that orders may again be issued to enforce them and to watch the result of their working for some years. If necessary some special honors or privileges might be shewn to dharmadarsis whenever they attend the temple so long as they hold office. It will perhaps induce them to take more interest than they do in temple affairs.
